Finance Monitor Review – Is it Better than Alternatives? Updated on Apr 27, 2020 When it comes to handling multiple financial accounts, it is not easy to keep track of them all and make sure that all the transactions are properly recorded and stored. The problem can be overwhelming if you have several accounts that need to be kept in order. In addition, you must also monitor every single transaction, in order to make sure that they are properly recorded in your database. This can be a very long and tedious task, if you have to do it manually. So, if you have done this in the past, and you have discovered that this did not provide you with a satisfactory solution, you should definitely consider trying out the software program Finance Monitor. What's more, if you are looking for an application that allows you to keep track of all the transactions that happen on multiple bank accounts, and that you can use to easily sort them, you might find it intriguing to consider checking out this tool. Thanks to this, you will be able to make sure that you keep all the information relating to every single transaction that happened on your accounts. In addition, this program also enables you to manage the overall balance in your accounts in addition to creating groups. This will help you quickly view the entire history of your transactions by using the groups that you have created in the table. Thanks to this, you will be able to be up-to-date with the changes that happened in the account, as well as all the transactions that you performed on them. Moreover, you will also be able to easily sort all the accounts and transactions, by using the custom fields that you have enabled in the application. It also has to be mentioned that you are not limited to only viewing and managing your bank accounts. The software can be a lot more than this. Thanks to this, you will be able to track almost every type of transaction, and store every single one of them in the system. In addition, you will be able to add a number of attributes, which will help you in sorting and analyzing the data that the software records. Finance Monitor Key Features Instant and easy to use Secure system Intuitive user interface Create groups and sort them Integrate with Online Banking Instant transactions monitoring Modify transactions Add new transaction types Configure additional accounts Built-in documentation tool Manage multiple accounts and their transactions
