Inventor Engineer-to-Order.ABSTRACT The Center of Biomedical Research Excellence (COBRE) in Targeted Therapeutics has been established at East Tennessee State University (ETSU) with support from the NIH/NIGMS in 2006. The long term goal of this Center is to establish a multidisciplinary research team that will create a new area of research in the area of targeted anti-cancer therapies, which will serve as a national resource for the biomedical research community. This application is a renewal of the Center's second cycle of funding (years 1-5), which has led to the development of a productive research team with 4 new faculty hires (30% of total COBRE Phase II faculty hires) including 2 junior investigators and 2 new group leaders. The Center has forged new collaborative relationships with other investigators in the state and in-state and with researchers from neighboring insitutions (8 outside of East Tennessee). The COBRE Phase II leaders' productivity have led to over $3M in sponsored funding and numerous publications, which have also garnered multiple high profile research awards. In this renewal, the Phase II COBRE will continue to build on our success and create a robust research team to continue to define, generate, and then test new targeted anti-cancer therapies. In this application, we have four key components: 1) Development of a state-of-the-art research facility (Aslan Bioscience, Inc.) to foster the environment required for targeted anti-cancer therapies; 2) Development of an interdisciplinary training program to develop an interdisciplinary 3e33713323
